WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 .- [Special]-The strong probability of an extra session of Congress immediately following the inauguration of President-elect Cleve, and is the subject of general conversation in Washington to-day. A special session of the Senate is always called at the beginning of a new administration to confirm members of the Cabinet and new diplomatic representatives of the United States abroad. But the present election having turned on the questions of domestic policy it is said to be obvious to experienced political leaders of all parties that an extra session of both Houses of Congress will almost inevitably result.

Secretary of the Treasury Foster, among others, admits this. The country, he says, challenged the judgement try, he says, challenged the judgement of the Republicans on the McKinley bill and the result must be accepted as the will of the people that a different policy should be put into effect. Exsere ary Bayard writes to a friend here to a like effect, adding that the people will expect this to be done without unnecessary delay.

Private Secretary Halford has resumed his duties at the White House. He arrived in Washington this morning from Indianapolis. He frankly admitted his surprise and disappointment at the result of the election and says he gave up all hope for the Republican ticket when he first learned of the heavy Democratic majority in Chicago and New York city.

The President did not have very many callers to day and received scarcely any private advices on the subject of the callers to-day and received scarcely any private advices on the subject of the election. He has accepted the result in the most philosophical manner, and is said to attribute his failure to hear from the party managers as a clear indication that they have pathing that they have nothing encouraging to communicate.

There are a number of vacancies in the higher offices of the executive de-partments of the government, and the problem of filling them has been considerably complicated by the result of the recent election. These positions are outside of the civil service law and regulations and are looked upon as the legitimate patronage of the party in

Under the present administration ail f these places are or have been filled of these places are or have been filled by men of Republican political faith as during the last administration they were filled by Democrats. It is expected, of course, that when the administration changes on March 4 next, another general change will be made. In view of that fact the vacancies now existing cannot be regarded as alternative.

In view of that fact the vacancies now existing cannot be regarded as altogether desirable prizes, as in about three months the appointees would, no doubt, be expected to step down and out. It will be necessary, however, in order that public business may be properly carried on, that some of these vacancies be filled at once Although there has been no lack of applications, yet it is doubtful whether any large proportion of them would be willing to accept these places, which they must so soon surrender, and in making such appointments President Harrison will probably find that the office must seek the man and not the man the office, which will be and not the man the office, which will be something of a novelty in his political

In the Postoffice Department there is only one vacancy in the higher offices, and that is the office of first assistant postmaster general. Col. Whitfield's resignation went into effect nearly a month are and inserted in the control of the month ago, and since that time Fowier, the chief clerk of the office, has been acting as first assistant. Under the law an acting first assistant can serve only thirty days, after which a permanent appointment must be made, if the va-cancy is filled at all. Fowler and Bell, the second assistant postmaster general, have been mentioned for the place, but have been mentioned for the place, our Wanamaker, it is said, has not yet fully decided who he will recommend, but he will presumably take some action soon.

In the Interior Department there is also one important vacancy, that of commissioner of the general land office, now being temporarily filled by Assis-tant Commissioner Stone. It has been suggested that Carter might be induced to return and serve until March 4, but this is quite improbable. It is assumed that the heads of all the bureaus of the departments will be replaced by Demo-crats soon after the fourth of March and these, with a hundred or more chiefs of divisions, chief clerks and others outside of the civil service, will constitute side of the civil service, will constitute thd main patronage at the disposal of the Democratic party in the government service in Washington. In the War and Navy Departments In the War and Navy Departments there are no vacancies in any of the important offices. The same is true of the Department of State proper, but there are several diplomatic places vacant, which are usually most enticing to would-be officeholders, but may now go begging. Some of these places are ministers of high orders, such as the Italian mission, Russian mission, Portu-Italian mission, Russian mission, Portuguese mission, Swiss mission and finally the Chinese mission. In all these cases but the last the Republican incumbents

In the case of the Chinese mission, owirg to Blair's rejection, the place is still held by Minister Denby, a hold-over from the last Democratic adminis over from the last Democratic administration, who therefore appears to be for to continue at his post for four more years unless President Harrison in doubt the Fifth North Carolina dis-should determine to make a change be-fore the 4th of March, which is improb-able. There are practically now two vacancies in the important offices of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, as Nettleton's resignation will take effect next month and Crounse, who ran as the Republican candidate for gover-nor of Nebraska, has likewise resigned from the Treasury.

In the department of justice there will be a vacancy at the very head, At torney General Miller having signified his intention of resigning but his present will be a vacancy at the very head, At torney General Miller having signified his intention of resigning, but it is not yet known whether this action will be taken as to require the President to make a Cabinet appointment before the 4th of March. The President will also have four vacancies on the bench to fill between now and the 4th of March. These are the United States judgeships caused by the retirement of Judge Blodgett, of the Chicago district; by the resignation of Judge Montgomery, of the Supreme Court of District of Columbia; by the retirement of Judge Dixon, of the same court on the first proximo, and by the resignation of Judge Dixon, of the Utah district. These are life positions and are really the most alluring prizes remaining within the gift of the administration.

Colonel Hepburn, who has just been elected to Congress from the Eighth district of Iowa, will probably retain his present office as solicitor of the Treasury until March 4. To-day's analysis of Congressional election roturns shows that with the returns missing from twen'y districts, in which the result is either entirely unknown or is very close, the Democrats have elected to seats in the House of Representatives for the Fifty-first Converses eighty-veight more the Democrats have elected to seats in the House of Representatives for the Fifty-first Congress eighty-eight more Representatives than the Republicans. This majortty does not include nine members-elect who are classified as either Fusionists or Third party men. nearly every one of whom will act with the Democrats in any proposed reduction of the tariff taxes.

Their support, with the additional tion of the tariff taxes.

Their support, with the additional strength the Democrats are certain to derive from securing some of the twenty districts put in the "unknown" column, make it conservative to estimate that the Democrats will have a majority of 100 members or more on the most important question likely to come before the next House of Representatives—namely, the revision of the McKinley

the next House of Representatives—namely, the revision of the McKinley tariff law.

A number of fusionists are thoroughly in accord with the Democratic policy, as far as it gees, on all other questions. For instance, McLaurin, of South Carolina, and Rence and Bell, of Colorado, who are classified with the Third party men, are in general accord with the Democratic platform, save that on the currency question the first named has Alliance ideas and the two last named are radical free coinage men.

Three out of five of the fusionists elected in Kansas are also simply Democrats of what way be called the radical wing of the party. Leaving out the twenty unknown districts the House will consist of 207 Democrats, 120 Republicans and 9 fusionists of the vote An analysis by sections of the vote

An analysis by sections of the vote An analysis by sections of the vote Tuesday for Congressmen shows that the Southern States, Maryland, Missouri and Kentucky being included in this category, will send 117 Democrats, only four Republicans and one Alliance-Democrat, McLaurin, of South Carolina, to the next House with four districts Democrat, McLaurin, of South Carolina, to the next House, with four districts, two in West Virginia and one each in Kentucky and Missouri, in doubt. Of the four Republican Congressmen returned two come from Tennessee and one each from Kentucky and Missouri. The only apparent result of the fight made against the Democracy in the South was to strengthen its hold on public affairs.

In North Carolina, Cheatham, colored

In North Carolina, Cheatham, colored In North Carolina, Cheatham, colored Republican, is defeated after surviving the landslide of two years and in Alabama a solid Democratic delegation is returned notwithstanding the efforts of Magee and others to split it.

Of New England's 27 votes in the next House, the Republicans get 18 and the Democrats six, three coming from Massachusetts and three from Connecti-cut. The second New Hampshire dis-ced in the doubtful column. Four Middle States, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, have 73 votes in the House, of which number the Republicans will cast 39 and the Democrats 34. Fifty-six Congressmen will be returned from the Middle and Western States of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. According to the returns the Democrats will represent thirty-two of the districts, the Re-publicans twenty-three, and one, the Sixteenth Ohio, at present represented by Pearson, Democrat, is said to be ex-ceedingly close. Although this is the only doubtful district named in the press dispatches from these States experience warrants the belief tout other districts will be found to be doubtful as the official count progresses, several districts being always nip and tuck between the two parties

The States of the Northwest and the agricultural West, beyond the Mississippi, will send twenty nine Republi-cans, fourteen Democrats and five fusionists to represent it in the next fusionists to represent it in the next House with two districts from Nebraska in doubt and the entire seven from Min-nesota placed in the same column for lack of information as to the successful candidates. The Republicans stand the best chance for securing a majority from nine unknown districts. Five from nine unknown districts. Five fusionists come from Kansas. It is said that with the exception of Davis and Baker the fusionists are inclined to ward the Democracy.

The silver States of Idaho, Montana, The silver States of Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada and Colorado split even on the Congressional election. three Republicans coming from the three States first named and three fusionists from the two latter States. Newlands of Nevada, however, is inclined toward Republicanism. The is inclined toward Republicanism. The Pacific coast is entitled to eleven Congressmen; Washington and Oregon each will send two Republicans and Califor-nia will send four Democrats and perhaps more, three districts being

trict, it being asserted with equal positiveness by the different correspondents that it has fallen to the Democrats and tiveness by the different correspondents that it has fallen to the Democrats and to the Republicans.

The judiciary is the only branch of the Government which will remain under the control of the Republican party after the 4th of March. United States judges are appointed for life, subject to the privilege of voluntary retirement on full pay after reaching the age of 70 years, provided they have been ten years in service. District and circuit judges are as a rule Republicans, and it is unlikely that there will be a sufficient number of vacancies during the next four years to enable Cleveland, by new appointments, to give the Democratic party a majority of these positions, nor is there any probability that the next administration will have an opportunity to make the United States Supreme Court Democratic

As this is the court of final resort on all questions of constitutional or federal law, the political predilections of its justices may at any time become a matter of importance through the freedom of the court from influence by considerations extraneous to legal points at issue in any case before it is conceded. Lamar. Chief Justice Fuller is the only other Democrat on the bench.

The remaining six members are Republicans and, except Justice Blatchford, none of them are within five years of the age at which they may retire at full pay. Justice Blatchford is in vigorous health and as he likes his work he is in no hurry to take advantage of the opportunity the law affords him, he having served ten years last spring. The other five members of the court, viz., Justices Harlan, Gray, Brown, Brewer and Shiras, are men hardly past middle age and so far as appearances go are each good for a decade of service yet. service yet.

Ohio. COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 10 .- [Special]-The result of the election in Ohio is still in doubt, and the indications are that only the official count will decide it. The Democratic State committee have authentic returns from seventy-six counties, and estimating the results in the twelve other counties they claim that Cleveland has carried the State by a plurality of 1,270, and that Taylor, Democrat, is elected secretary of State by a still larger plurality. The Republican committee has received word from all the counties of the State expent all the counties of the State except Licking, Monroe, Tuscarwas and Wyandotte, and estimating the results in these counties they claim the election of Taylor, Republican, secretary of State, by a plurality of 1,413, and that Harrison has carried the State.

The committee states that an error 935 votes in Cuyahoga county has been discovered and that the correction gives them an advantage. The Democrats have elected eleven and the Republicans ten Congressmen, the former carrying five Republican districts, the Ninth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth and Twenty-first, and defeating Ashley, Johnson, Poorman, Morgan and Hodge, Republican candidates. On Presidential and State tickets both parties claim a clean sweep and the result may not be definitely known before to-morrow.

ALIJANCE, O., Nov. 10.—(Special)-Probably one of the biggest surprises of Tuesday's balloting was the election of Dr. George P. Ikirt, Democrat, in this, McKinley's, district. Complete returns wipe out the usual Republican majority of 2,593 and elect Ikirt to Congress over Thomas R. Morgan, Sr., of this city, the Republican candidate, by a majority of 1,000.

Minnesota.

St. PAUL, Nov. 10 .- (Special) - Returns from Duluth this morning confirm the Democratic claim of the election of Baldwin to Congress in the Sixth district over Searle. Baldwin's election is conceded by Sccretary Bixby, of the Republican State central committee, who claims positively that the Republicans have been successful in the First, Second. Fourth and Fifth Congressional ond, Fourth and Fifth Congressional ond, Fourth and Fifth Congressional districts.

Hall, Democrat, is elected to the Third, and the Seventh is in doubt with chances in favor of Feig, Republican, who claims 1,000 plurality over Boen, the People's party candidate. He has received no returns from some of the counties and there is still a possibility that he is defeated.

At the Republican headquarters it is

At the Republican headquarters it is claimed that the Republicans have made net gains of twenty-four assemblymen, which would wipe out the anti-Republican majority of two years ago and insure the re-election of Davis to the United States Senate. The claims include nine in Minneapolis and Hennepin county, from which no official or even county, from which no official or even unofficial returns have been received. The danger to the Republicans is in Hennepin county.

If their claims there are not confirmed by the returns they will probably lose the legislature. But as Nelson, ably lose the legislature. But as Neison, the Republican candidate for governor, has carried that county by 3,500 there seems little doubt that the legislature size has also been successful. No ticket has also been successful. No tabulated statement has been made up of the vote on the national and State tickets, but there is no reason to be-lieve the Republican plurality of either will fall below 12,000 to 15,000.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.- (Special)-Complete returns from the city of Chicago and Cook county show that Cleveland has carried Cook county by 32,000 plurality, and that Altgold, the Democratic candidate for governor, has carried the county by 31,000 plurality, so that in the great German Republican stronghold of the State Cleveland and Stevenson have actually run ahead of the German Democratic candidate for governor. The only explanation for this is that the statement by Washington Hessing, editor of the Staats Zeitung, to President-elect Cleveland and Democratic national committee that the German of Hilleria. committee that the Germans of Illinois would support him and the entire Dem-ocratic ticket, has been verified by the orrate theree, has been verified by the results.

The lead of Cleveland over Altgeld is probably due to the votes of certain Democrats and independents who supported the Democratic national ticket, but who refused to vote for Altgeld for governor on account of his socialistic multiplications.

Returns from 655 country precincts outside of Cook country, out of a total of 710, give Harrison a total vote of 126,089; Cleveland, 116,076 Harrison's plurality in these precincts is 10,013. This would indicate that the official returns from the whole State will show a Democratic plurality of about 20,000 for the action. plurality of about 20,000 for the national ticket. The plurality for the State ticket will not vary materially from these figures.

Michigan.

DETROIT, Nov. 10 .- | Special |- The Congressional delegation from Michigan will probably statd: Democrats, 5; Republicans, 7. Both houses of the legispublicans, 7. Both houses of the legis-lature are Republican.

All the election returns of this State are not in yet, and much dissatisfaction is felt over the slowness of the count under the new Australian ballot system It is certain that the following Congressmen have been elected: First district, J. Logan Chapman, Democrat; Second, James S. Gorman, Democrat; Tnird, Julius C. Burrans Rambilian. Julius C. Burrows, Republican; Fourth, H. F. Thomas, Republican; Fifth, Geo. H. F. Thomas, Republican; Fifth, Geo. F. Richardson, Dem crat and People's party; Sixth, D. D. Aitkin, Democrat; Seventh, Justin R. Whiting, Democrat; Eighth, William S. Linton, Republican; Tenth, Thos. E. A. Weadock, Democrat; Eleventh, John Avery, Republican; Twelfth, Samuel M. Stevenson, Republican; In the Ninth district the vote is close, but J. W. Moon. Republican, is probably elected. The electors stand nine Republicans to five Democrats, the latthe publicans to five Democrats, the latter being from the eastern district at large and the First, Second, Seventh and Tenth districts. On joint ballot the Republicans will have a majority of the State legislature, insuring the election of Republicans Williams. tion of a Republican United States Senator. Nothing definite can yet be had as to the vote cast by the Prohibi-tionists and Populists.

Colorado.

DENVER, Nev. 10 .- (Special)-Returns from forty-one counties in this State, out of fifty-five, indicate that the Democratic Populist ticket has elected every candidate, from electors every candidate, from electors to con-stable. This is the first time in the history of the State that the Republi-cans have failed to elect a portion, if not all, of their ticket. The Republinot all, of their ticket. The Republi-cans concede the Democrats everything, with the excaption of Helm, for governor, who, they claim, has been saved by five hundred votes. This hope, however, will probably not be realized.
